Proud Members of Our Cleveland Community,

On this celebratory day, I am grateful for the incredible communal support and advocacy that propels The LGBT Community Center to present Pride in the CLE® March and Festival each year. This event symbolizes invigorating our movement towards social equality, peace, love, and respect for all individuals in our community.

Pride in the CLE® is core to a consistent and concerted effort by our beloved city to rise above hate, indifference and the vitriol that continues to threaten our movement. As we look out at the diverse sea of people today, let us embrace the realization that we are part of a vibrant, welcoming culture worthy of recognition, inclusion, and care.

Last year, this event took a significant step forward by relocating downtown to Malls B & C. This expansive venue reaffirmed our belief that we are providing a safe and nurturing environment for the LGBTQ+ community to celebrate and thrive. Our city-wide community event is supported by exceptional healthcare organizations, affirming, supportive businesses, and talented artists and entertainers.

This is also a moment for us to reflect on the remarkable history that we have created together. As The Center approaches 50 years as an organization dedicated to advocating for and supporting Northeast Ohio’s LGBTQ+ community, it has truly been an honor to produce our city’s annual Pride festival, creating the space to lift up queer joy.

As we celebrate our progress today, we also acknowledge that there is still work to be done towards the ultimate goal of just treatment for all. Let us unite and raise our voices to make our presence known - we will not be silent in the fight for protection, rights and respect.

I must express my heartfelt gratitude to the dedicated members of The LGBT Community Center of Greater Cleveland team, the support of Palmer Event Solutions, and the invaluable hours devoted by our newly established Pride Ambassador Council, who have all contributed to making this day a reality. I am sincerely grateful for the unwavering support of our business partners and all the amazing individuals who volunteered and hosted vendor booths today - and, of course, for your presence and being unapologetically yourself!

Today’s celebration marks another significant milestone in our movement and reiterates that we are strongest when we stand united. Today demonstrates our ability to remain a powerful force of social change. Today is Pride in the CLE®.

Sincerely,

Phyllis “Seven” Harris

Executive Director

The LGBT Community Center of Greater Cleveland
ABOUT PRIDE IN THE CLE®

Early in 2016, news that Cleveland Pride would not be happening sent shock waves through the Northeast Ohio LGBTQ+ community. Knowing what the event had come to mean for the community, The LGBT Community Center of Greater Cleveland supported a group of community leaders to produce the first ever Pride in the CLE® that June.

The Center’s Director of Operations, Dr. Daniel Hamilton recalled the events of 2016, “Following the cancellation of Cleveland Pride, Phyllis tapped my shoulder and asked if I could help make Pride happen in 2 weeks. I remember saying ‘No one can, but we will.’”

In just a few weeks, this dedicated group began writing the new chapters of LGBTQ+ Pride here on the shores of Lake Erie. “The event has only grown since, and is a true testament to the strength and power of Northeast Ohio’s LGBTQ+ community,” Dr. Hamilton continued.

Since 2016, The Center has remained steadfast in keeping the same communal ideals that were essential to the first Pride celebrations early in the Stonewall Movement. “Pride is a movement NOT a moment,” Gulnar Feerasta, Senior Director of Programs, exclaimed. “The struggle for LGBTQ+ rights extends beyond a single event or celebration. It signifies that the fight for equality and acceptance is an ongoing process that requires continuous activism and advocacy, rather than being confined to a particular time or place. So for me, the phrase ‘Pride is a movement, not a moment’ serves as a reminder that progress is not achieved solely through one-time events, but rather through ongoing efforts to challenge social norms, combat discrimination, and create a more inclusive and accepting society for all individuals, regardless of their sexual orientation or gender identity.”

The event aims to celebrate the community in art, in business, in health and wellness, in support of family and, above all, recognizing that this event is central to advocating for social justice for all.

Tom Stebel, long-time Center volunteer and member of the Pride Ambassador Council, reflected on his time attending Pride since its inception, “To me Pride month is about visibility. That very first march was a united community showing that they weren’t going to stand for the way they were being treated and protested for their basic rights. Every march, parade, circuit party, drag performance and protest this month is proving that, though it is marginalized and oppressed, the Queer community is Proud. Proud enough to stand up for their freedoms. Proud enough to celebrate themselves and show the world that the community is resilient and jubilant. Whether it’s one person holding a pride flag or a multitude marching in solidarity, visibility is one way to show our Pride. So raise a flag, raise your voice, and let your Pride be seen!”

Great things happen when good people collaborate!

Palmer Event Solutions is proud to have collaborated with The LGBT Community Center of Greater Cleveland in producing Pride in the CLE.

Organizing events takes more than planning and logistics; it takes a community! We were honored to work alongside The Center’s devoted staff, volunteers, and countless supporters. The collaborative effort involved community groups, vendors, exhibitors, city officials and so many others.

We would also like to express our gratitude to the past, present, and future visionaries who generously devote their time, energy, and talents to keeping this meaningful event thriving in Cleveland.
